

STATEWIDE SYMPOSIUM ON HOMELAND SECURITY

featuring research of the NJ Universities Consortium on Homeland Security will be hosted by the Rutgers Center for the Study of Public Security at Rutgers Newark, with the support of Rutgers University Homeland Security Research Initiative (RUHSRI)

DATE: Tuesday, October 12, 2004

PLACE: Paul Robeson Campus Center, Rutgers Newark

DIRECTIONS: <http://www.newark.rutgers.edu/maps/index.php>

TIME: 8:00 am -1:30 pm

THEME: Situational Security, including situational awareness and prevention

FORMAT: There will be an opening plenary session with a keynote speaker. This will be followed by 2 concurrent sessions of panels on the thematic topics. Lunch will conclude the symposium.

ROLES: Each school will moderate and organize a panel around a hypothetical situational security challenge/ security problem and panelists will demonstrate how their research can address this security problem/challenge. For example:

- Monmouth – Bio-Chemical Attack on the Water Supply
- NJIT – Maritime Domain Awareness
- Rutgers -- USA Border Shutdown
- UMDNJ—Health Security
- Rutgers – Author Identification

GOALS: As with all our symposia, the goals will be to showcase our research and also to find ways for our respective institutions to undertake collaborative research activities.

KEYNOTE: Richard Kelly, Special Agent, Terrorism Section, NJ FBI office.

NJ Universities Consortium for Homeland Security includes 7 schools: Rutgers University, University of Medicine and Dentistry of NJ, NJ Institute of Technology, Stevens Institute of Technology, Fairleigh Dickinson University, Monmouth University, and Princeton University.

CONTACT:

Alison Sherley
School of Criminal Justice, Rutgers University
Email: asherley@pegasus.rutgers.edu